About the 2019 Season:

“Shakespeare, As You Like It”

This year we are expanding our artistic scope to present a collaborative production featuring local actors and singers to explore Shakespeare's works. We will weave together select vignettes of plays and operas in ways that highlight the power of the original story while acknowledging the liberties operatic composers and librettists took in their interpretations. Please include in your resume any experience that would be pertinent in our casting for this unique production.
